INTRODUCES THE TOPIC

The quality of higher education decides the quality of human resources in a country. Though, last decade has witnessed a rapid expansion in the number of institutions for higher education but quality assurance being the key area requires continuous focus and attention through a join and shared responsibility. All stake holders like students, parents, teachers supporting staff, government enhancement are needed to be involved in ensuring quality of higher education.

In present time college autonomy has emerged as an alternative to the conventional affiliating system in bringing about qualitative innovations in the field of higher education in the country.

Hence, keeping above considerations in view, Shri Swamiji Maharaj college of Education and Sciences, Datia is organizing a two days national seminar for teachers, students, members of governing bodies to quality enhancement in higher education.

This seminar will be useful for the institutes, administrative and faculty members and students, who look forward to quality enhancement in the institutions of higher learning and who perceive higher education as an instrument of social & economic change.
